

God Watching Me

Lyrics

Bury me next to my homies
I don't care no more
I'm drinking liquor and my lungs full of weed smoke
Years full of tears that I shed
Plus a thousand times
Make a thousand times my eyes been red
My eyes rarely ever get red
Even if I drink a whole bunch of liquor smoke a blunt and go to bed
I can't wake up with the same high
Trust in the Lord is what they telling me
Like I'm about to die but what's a vision to me
Clouded memories from my childhood
Ever since the day of my birth
Its been less than heavenly
Believe good just the way I should
It never seem to change
Living in this world has brought me pain
Stuck in fallen rain
I can't explain the reason that kids die
Please help me understand
Jesus my question is why
His reply..
Its part of a bigger plan just do your part
And never question me again
But you can smile

God Watching Me

Lyrics

Its getting harder to smile for me

Only when I see the sun shine

Do I feel God watching me

Its getting harder to smile for me

Only when I see the sun shine

Do I feel God watching me

Its getting harder to smile for me

Now when I hear the trigger blast

I don't care better him than me

Living in this city for so long

I wouldn't be surprised if my number came up out of jealousy

My younger days I prayed for peace

but it wasn't this bad

It wasn't this many dead bodies touching the street

Sitting in a cold cell no shoes on my feet

Disgusted the sight to see blood on my jewelry

From the juvenile hall to the county jail

I rebel as I share with you the wickedest of tales

From the day I went a stray

Up to the day I found my place

Along the way I grew up fast case after case

I'm lost for words

Hoping I ain't lose my soul

God Watching Me

Lyrics

Hustling this one life

Trying to fill my pockets with gold

I'm getting blasted and thugging 'til my casket

I'm loving it

Discover my passion and single out my madness

Only when I see the sun shine

I feel safe again

Life is what you make it

Make it count

Make it fun again

Its getting harder to smile for me

Only when I see the sun shine

Do I feel God watching me

Its getting harder to smile for me

Only when I see the sun shine

Do I feel God watching me

Its getting harder to smile for me

Only when I see the sun shine

Do I feel God watching me
